Media The Media Department promotes Acton's message through various media products and outlets. The distribution of our feature-length films continued across the U.S. and internationally, including translation into several languages. Acton's media products were distributed with a focus on digital platforms. They can be found on familiar platforms such as Amazon, Netflix, and iTunes. A curriculum and related website about enterprise solutions to poverty in the developing world (PovertyCure) continued to be promoted. Many schools and universities have incorporated this resource into their curriculums. The project seeks to build a network of likeminded organizations as well as to promote a proper understanding of the human person and society. The media projects will encourage solutions that create opportunity and unleash the entrepreneurial spirit. Acton's documentary Poverty, Inc. has earned more than 45 film festival awards to date, including the $100,000 Templeton Freedom Award. The film has screened more than 500 times in 28 countries. Work on the first segment of a new series (The Good Society) to capture core ideas in short films began in 2017. The first 6 episodes were completed and will be released in 2018.

Name: Acton Institute for the Study of Religion and Liberty

Form 990 (2017)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

Education Acton's Education Department targets current and future religious, business, and community leaders, both nationally and internationally, and works to promote an understanding of market principles and to encourage the economic freedom that creates opportunity for all. The Institute sponsors conferences aimed at educating leaders of all denominations and provides opportunities for awards and scholarships through various programs of the outreach area. The Institute sponsored domestic conferences for current and future leaders with an emphasis on those who shape the moral culture. The conferences included Acton University which is an annual comprehensive four-day exploration of the intellectual foundations of a free society. Many students selected to attend our conferences receive a full or partial scholarship, which covers room and board expenses as well as conference fees. In 2017, over 1,000 students from more than 70 different countries attended, and limited travel scholarships were provided in cases of need. Expenses were also incurred for a discovery process to identify and educate clergy, students, religious leaders and seminary faculty members who can assist us in furthering our programs. We maintained an active networking effort to build strategic alliances and partnerships with evangelical churches, nonprofits, and seminaries. The Education Department is also an international educational resource dedicated to advancing the business ethics model of entrepreneurial stewardship, encouraging and supporting business leaders in the active integration of integrity with their profession.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

Research The Institute's academic investigations are conducted by its Research Department. This work centers on theology, economics, philosophy, and history, among other topics. Additionally, the investigations produced at the Acton Institute are delivered locally in Grand Rapids as well as at national and international conferences with the goal of reaching the scholarly community at large. The Research Department publishes books, journals, monographs and occasional papers, and its staff regularly publishes books with external publishing houses. The Journal of Markets & Morality is a semi-annual refereed journal that provides a forum for scholars to engage issues concerning the morality of the marketplace. The Christian Social Thought Series examines, in each volume, a key economic issue facing Christians. Non-Christians have also written articles and books addressing relevant themes of interest to the Acton Institute. The Research Department also manages Acton's academic scholarship programs. Fellowships were awarded to provide financial assistance, in the form of academic fellowships and travel grants, to promising seminarians and graduate students who are advancing an understanding of the connection between economic liberty and religious values. The annual Novak Award recipient is presented with a prize to acknowledge and reward new research on the relationship between religion, economic freedom, and the free and virtuous society. Lastly, the Research Department manages a number of programs, including (1) small specific conferences for scholars and graduate students that mostly are held in Grand Rapids, (2) larger conferences for leading religious figures, and (3) the scholarly and programmatic outreach of Acton's Rome office. Internationally, we have held conferences on various topics such as economic liberty, poverty and development, Catholic social teaching, Judaism and the economy, intellectual property rights, and limited government. Our office in Rome also held regular small lectures at the office.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

General Education and Communications The Institute reaches out to business leaders, policymakers, students, and religious and community leadership groups through lectures, media products, web and social media, and various writings. The 2017 annual dinner celebrating 27 years of the Acton Institute was held to promote outreach and to thank supporters for their partnership. The dinner and program festivities included discourse with prominent public speakers and Institute supporters. Over 900 attended, representing many states and several foreign countries, and admission was charged to defray expenses incurred. The Acton Lecture Series and Acton Film Series hosted over 25 local events during the year in our conference center for discussions of a variety of topics related to our work. The Institute also sponsored several other luncheon and dinner lectures around the country. Our facility in Grand Rapids allowed us to host an increasing number of downtown events offered to the general public. Acton Institute also operates a bookstore to promote and sell its own publications, in addition to outside publications, related to our mission and program outreach areas. These educational materials were sold, distributed and exhibited at a variety of events throughout the world. Our rich and robust web presence centers on the Acton website (www.acton.org), and includes other Acton sites such as the PowerBlog as well as a great deal of current and historical Acton-produced content. The Institute has a broad and growing presence in social media. This platform has steadily increased the scope and frequency of Acton's outreach to the general public. In 2017, we launched an ambitious upgrade to our web platforms and content. The Communications Department manages the growing family of Acton websites, blog, and social media which use leading technology to integrate text, audio, and video content in easily accessible formats and venues to promote Acton's message to web users. It publishes the print and digital editions of Religion & Liberty, Acton Notes, and the weekly email newsletter, Acton News & Commentary. The Communications Department also connects Acton experts with print and broadcast journalists covering faith and policy issues.

990 Schedule O, Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Section A, line 6	The corporation is organized on a membership basis. There are two classes of members: full members and associate members. Only full members are entitled to vote. The full members elect one or more members of the governing body, the Board of Directors. The original members were appointed in the founding documents of incorporation. New members may be added by a two-thirds vote of the full members. The Board of Directors, by unanimous action, may terminate the membership of any member who fails to comply with the bylaws or regulations.

990 Schedule O, Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Section A, line 7a	Members have the ability to elect or appoint one or more members of the organization's governing body, the Board of Directors. The bylaws grant members the power to fill vacancies or remove existing directors by a majority vote.
